

Create a Photoshop action by Sylvia DiGeorgio

1) In the Actions Palette (click on Windows, Actions if the palette is not visible), click on the folder as shown on the picture, it will create a new set to store your actions.

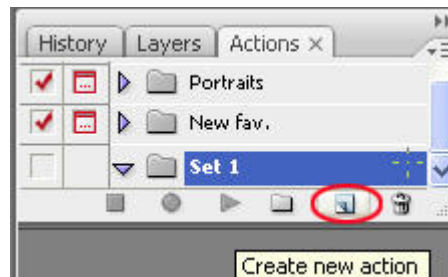

2) Name the set and click OK.

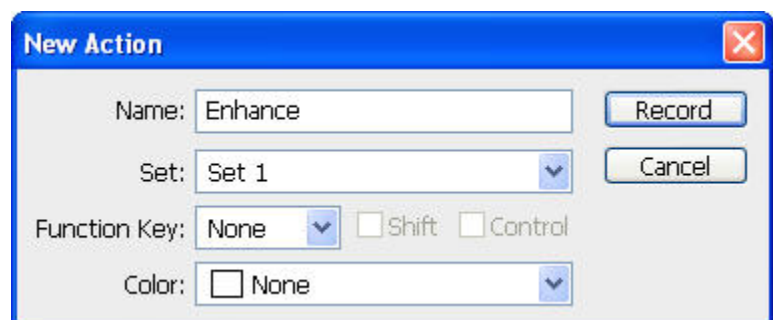

3) The new set will now appear at the bottom of the Actions palette.

4) Now you need to create the action itself. Proceed as shown on the right picture.

5) Name the action, choose the set in which you want to save it, eventually assign it a function key and a color, and click on Record when you're done.

You're now ready to record your first action. Press the red button showing at the bottom of the Actions palette when you want to stop the recording.
